Replit Agent Prompt — Perfect Parking: 1,223 Texas City Landing Pages

Paste this entire prompt into Replit Agent. Do not modify it.

TASK

Build 1,223 programmatic city landing pages for the Perfect Parking website. Each page targets a specific Texas city and is optimized for SEO and AI/LLM discoverability. The pages should be generated from a data file — do NOT manually create 1,223 individual files.

STEP 1 — Create the city data file

Create the file `client/src/data/texasCities.ts` with the following content. This is the complete list of all 1,223 incorporated Texas cities from the Texas Comptroller's official data.

```
export interface TexasCity {
  name: string;
  slug: string;
  population: number;
  region: string;
}

export const texasCities: TexasCity[] = [

    );
  }

  const popDisplay = city.population > 0 ? city.population.toLocaleString() :
null;

  const schemaData = {
    "@context": "https://schema.org",

                </Link>

          </section>
        )}
      </main>
    </>
  );
}
```

STEP 3 — Install react-helmet-async

Run in the Replit shell:

```
npm install react-helmet-async
```

Then wrap the app in `client/src/main.tsx` or `client/src/App.tsx`:

```
import { HelmetProvider } from "react-helmet-async";
// Wrap <App /> with <HelmetProvider>

STEP 4 — Add dynamic routing to App.tsx

In `client/src/App.tsx`, add this route inside the `<Switch>`:

```
import CityPage from "@/pages/CityPage";

// Add inside <Switch>:
<Route path="/locations/:citySlug" component={CityPage} />
```

Make sure this route comes BEFORE the 404 fallback route.

STEP 5 — Update the Locations index page

In the existing Locations page component, replace the static city grid with a dynamic list generated from `texasCities`. Add a search/filter input so users can find their city. Each city card should link to `/locations/{slug}`.

The page should show all 1,223 cities, grouped by region, with a search box at the top.

STEP 6 — Update sitemap.xml

Replace the contents of `client/public/sitemap.xml` with a sitemap that includes all city page URLs. Generate it programmatically — the sitemap should include:

- `https://perfectparking.com/` (priority 1.0)
- `https://perfectparking.com/locations` (priority 0.9)
- `https://perfectparking.com/faq` (priority 0.8)
- `https://perfectparking.com/contact` (priority 0.8)

- One entry per city: `https://perfectparking.com/locations/{slug}` (priority 0.7)

Write a small Node.js script `scripts/generate-sitemap.js` that reads `texasCities.ts` and outputs the full sitemap XML, then run it and save the result to `client/public/sitemap.xml`.

STEP 7 — Verify

After completing all steps:

1. Navigate to `/locations/houston` — confirm the page loads with correct city name, FAQ, and schema
2. Navigate to `/locations/abilene` — confirm it loads
3. Navigate to `/locations/nonexistent-city` — confirm the 404 fallback shows
4. Check that `/locations` shows all cities with links
5. Check that `sitemap.xml` contains city URLs

IMPORTANT NOTES

- Do NOT hardcode individual city pages as separate files. Everything must be driven by the `texasCities.ts` data array.
- The GHL contact form webhook URL is: `https://services.leadconnectorhq.com/hooks/ZF2Qjd4J1GmT9w5XbinN/webhook-trigger/KkGW9R8Rqu2pZUvyYS6P` — the `/contact` page already uses this, do not change it.
- Keep the existing site header and footer on all city pages.
- The color scheme is: dark navy `#0a2540` background, yellow `#f5c518` / `#FACC15` accents, white body text on dark, dark text on light backgrounds.
- Do not change any existing pages — only ADD the new city routing and update the Locations index.
